

REDDICK REVIEWS

Special Cor. Ocala Banner:

After having all the unfailing signs of rain, the clouds have passed and the dry weather continues. Some of the crops on pine land are suffering but those on hammock land have not suffered so much. The crop of beans will be short, especially on the pine lands, and the crown bloom of tomatoes is not producing any fruit. But perhaps in the long run, owing to a short crop vegetable men may receive so much better prices for what they are able to ship that they may be better off than if everyone made a heavy crop.

Mr. L. S. Light made several good shipments last week and is shipping more this week.

Mr. J. B. Devore showed us one of the finest lots of wax beans last week that we ever saw grown anywhere. They were grown on his hammock farm west of Reddick. He is shipping them this week.

The Reddick Junior High School closes on Thursday, April 23, one of the most successful terms in its history, followed by a picnic for the patrons and pupils at Orange Lake on Friday. Our people perhaps will never realize how much they are indebted to Miss Rubie Hawkins and Miss Alice Himes for their faithful, patient and untiring efforts to give their pupils every advantage possible for their advancement. Perhaps there may have been some dissatisfaction, but if we are not aware of it. However, who ever heard of anyone teaching a school where everyone was satisfied?

We have not seen much of our candidates, but every registered voter perhaps has been receiving letters telling him whom he should vote for in the primaries. This is so much better than for the candidates to go around the country, stopping the farmers from their work, while listening to them telling all the good things in their favor. We hope, however, to meet not only the county candidates but those for the state offices and senatorial aspirants at Fairfield on May 1st. Every ex-candidate knows what a basket dinner at Fairfield means—one of the best dinners to be found anywhere, and a patient, respectful hearing of every aspirant for office from constable to governor, and among other things not to be forgotten M. L. Payne will be there with his wings bathed in democratic thunder. Come to Fairfield on the 1st and have a good time one more day of your life whether you are a candidate or not.

Mr. W. G. Mayo, one of our valued citizens, and brother to Mr. F. C. Mayo, died on Sunday the 19th inst., and was buried in Millwood cemetery on Monday afternoon, where a large concourse of his friends had gathered. Mr. Mayo had been in poor health for a long time, and while his death was unexpected his pleasant face will be missed from our streets. Coming here from Georgia, his native state, several years ago with his brother to engage in melon growing, he had proved himself a splendid citizen and neighbor, always ready to help every one in distress. We can say of him what can be said of but few of us: He died in peace and without an enemy.

May the Lord sustain his bereaved relatives through the trials of life and reunite them in heaven.

A CONFEDERATE VETERAN PASSES OVER THE RIVER

After an illness of several weeks at his home in this city, Mr. Henry Clay Gates died at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The deceased had been a citizen of our city for the past eighteen years and of Florida for thirty years. He was a native of Houston county, Ga., and was about sixty-five years of age. He was a member of the Marion Camp Confederate Veterans of this city, and took an active interest in the organization, and on several occasions went as a delegate to the annual reunions in different parts of the south, having attended the meetings at Birmingham, at New Orleans and at Richmond.

Mr. Gates enlisted in the 11th Georgia regiment and was in the civil war from the first battle of Manassas until the surrender at Appomattox, and at the cessation of hostilities held the rank of lieutenant, and was always a faithful and efficient soldier.

His death is very much lamented and leaves one less in the rapidly thinning ranks of those who served in that memorable struggle.

Mr. Gates leaves a widow and six children, viz: Mrs. Eula Smith of Powerville, Ga.; Mrs. Emma Smith of Perry, Ga.; Mr. Claude Gates of Washington, D. C., and Ida, Dovie and Paul Gates of this city.

The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence, and the body was taken to his old home at Anthony for interment. Rev. C. C. Carroll of the Baptist church conducted the ceremonies.

The pall bearers were Messrs. J. W. Lyles, J. H. Livingston, Sr., E. T. Williams, R. A. Carlton, J. A. Pittman and A. L. Eichelberger.

If you don't think Phillips is running, for answer ask your neighbor.

If elected I will give the office my close attention and work to the best interests of Marion county.

C. CARMICHAEL.

(Better known as "Ed.")

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of county commissioner for district No. 5. In so doing I realize that the announcement is somewhat late; yet I am inclined to believe, through the persistent and co-sistent persuasion of numerous tax payers in said district that my candidacy will be well and favorably received, hence this announcement.

Economy with progress is my motto. Taxpayers' wants will be duly considered while their needs will be promptly attended to. Being a farmer, experience has taught the necessity of good roads, and the same has taught me how to make the roads good, and as to the general welfare of the citizens of this county in matters on which the board of county commissioners would be called upon to take cognizance, you will find me the needed action rather than the easy promise. My time and attention will be given to every part of the district, and not to nursing and cherishing one portion to the detriment of the other.

Submitting the foregoing to the kind consideration of the voters of the district, I am,

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM J. YONGUE.

To the Democratic Voters of Marion County:

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of supervisor of registration, subject to the democratic primary of May 19. If elected I will perform the duty to the best of my ability as prescribed by law.

A. FRANK.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. WILLIAMSON.
